State Patrolman Bud McCallen, who conducted the investigation, said Karel and Linda Russell were riding east from school when they were passed by a car traveling in the same direction. They looked over their shoulders to see if the way was clear and then started to cross the highway near the Texaco station.

A car traveling west, driven by Jack Churchwell, who is employed at Donner Lake, was apparently not seen by the girls and it struck the bicycle operated by Karel, hurling her upon the hood and into the windshield. Churchwell was not blamed for the mishap which he could not avoid.

A new system of permits, designed to protect motorists from so-called "chain bandits" has been put into effect by the division of highways, Superintendent Frank Fox announced this week.

The permits to operate ski chain stations along the public highway are available at the local office of the division and must be obtained by those operating as only those with permits will be allowed to work on the highway, Fox emphasized.

The permits are accompanied by a large yellow and black badge, which must be worn by the permittee while engaged in his work. The badge indicates that the wearer is the only person authorized to perform the services specified and shall be presented upon demand by the division of highways or highway patrol personnel.

No signs other than official signs authorized and placed by the division of highways shall be displayed upon the highway right of way.

No vehicles used by the permittee shall be parked within the chain control areas.

Vending by the permittee of tire chains, accessories or other items or produce upon the state highway right of way is strictly forbidden.

The permit is revocable at any time by the division of highways, and the permit and identification badge shall be surrendered upon revocation by the division.

The permits are free of charge and the yellow and black badge are for use only on U. S. Highway 40, Fox said.

FUND DRIVE OPENS TO FINANCE GIRL SCOUTS IN DISTRICT

By Ellen Attardi

TAHOE CITY—An all-out effort is being made this month by Girl Scouts of the Truckee Tahoe neighborhood to raise funds to support their share of the Girl Scout program by means of Brownie Scouts selling calendars and the older Scouts selling nut and candy mixes. Girl Scout officials have stressed that this is necessary because the local area does not receive funds from a United Crusade fund or a Community Chest program which financially supports scouting in many areas.

The local group is part of the Sierra Nevada Council and as their official point out 'financial support is necessary and this means of raising money would not be done unless absolutely necessary. In the past there has been door-to-door soliciations for the money which we do not particularly like to do either. If anyone has a good idea for raising money, we would like to hear about it. In this area there is a great need for Girl Scouting and it is an ideal place for the program. So let's not let it down. We have six Brownie troops and three intermediate troops.. If there are any questions about the program or council, please phone your local neighborhood chairman, Bea Lyons, at JUniper 3-3133."

If anyone would care to donate any money, please make a check out to Sierra Nevada Girl Scout Council, Inc. or Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. and send to P. O. Box 583, Tahoe City, or P. O. Box 608, Reno, Nevada.

Warning Is Issued On Vandalism As Halloween Nears

"We want the children to have a good time on Halloween next Tuesday, but we certainly will not tolerate vandalism."

Tis warning was issued by Sergeant Roy Waters of the sheriff's department this week in calling attention to the forthcoming holiday. Waters said all the local officers will be on duty and that arrests may be expected if vandalism or malicious mischief is discovered.

He also warned parents to be careful in permitting young children to roam the streets and byways at will since there is always the possibility they may be harmed.

Home owners were asked to keep removable items, such as garbage cans, garden hose and similar articles inside to prevent their being taken by the funsters.

Man Is Nabbed As Wild Chase Ended

Teddy Neal Heverly, 20, Monterey band leader and only recently discharged from the army, found himself in a lot of trouble Sunday night about 9 o'clock when he made every effort to avoid apprehension by the California Highway Patrol.

After a 100 mile an hour chase, which ended when he wrecked a stolen car near the quarantine station, Heverley was lodged in jail on charges of hit and run, failure to heed a siren and red lights, reckless driving and auto theft.

Patrolman William Gautsche spotted the car traveling west at a high rate of speed about ten miles east of Truckee. He gave chase up to 100 miles an hour but Heverley refused to stop.

When he reached the quarantine station, at an estimated speed of 90 miles per hour, he failed to stop, sideswiped another vehicle just leaving the station and crashed the car into a light standard. He leaped from the vehicle, which was virtually demolished and ran, with Officers Gautsche, Bud McCallen and Glenn Virus in hot pursuit.

Several times he evaded his pursuers, but was finally apprehended near the Route 89 underpass.

Heverley said his own car broke down in Reno and that he took another vehicle to return home, the officers reported. The federal bureau of investigation was notified since driving a stolen car across a state line is a federal offense.

UNATTENDED FIRES FOUND IN FOREST

Four unattended camp fires were discovered by crews of the Truckee office of the Tahoe National Forest Service on Sunday, leading to a definite reminder to the public that the forest fire danger is not past, although the weekend rain storm in this vicinity gave 1.11 inches of precipitation.

This is not nearly enough to release any of the men who have been on call during the very dry period and carelessness with even the smallest spark is still highly dangerous to the area.

Martis Peak lookout and peaks around Squaw Valley received only an inch or two of snow during the weekend.

SUMMIT SCENE

By FRAN COUILLARD

SCENE V: We were kind of amazed when Fran Dragoo (treasurer of our Donner Community Club) told us that we had 74 paid up members. That's a pretty fair sized membership for a place that the highway marker says "Population 300"—and we think that that figure must count the transients. 'Cause I know that we have less than 60 registered voters. But our Community Club is like an octopus. Its tentacles reach out and grab members from as far away as Emigrant Gap. We forgot the formative year of the club when we were the first president, but whilst Donner Trail Associations have come and gone, and chambers of commerce have gently tapered off as an ebbing tide, the Community Club goes on and on. It is our stout mountain string on which the beads of friendship, community business, togetherness, and P. T. A. responsibilities are neatly strung. At meeting before last Ed Coltrin was elected president. Remember Ed of the flashing white teeth, waxed mustache who at one time was considered the mountains dashing beau brummel? Well, we forgot, in report to tell that in our interlude of not reporting, that Ed was finally hog tied by a gal named Mickie who came from the Big City and buttoned down our dashing bachelor. And out of this union came a toddler who (even tho' she is a lassie) needs but a waxed mustache to be the proverbial "spittin' image." And this buttoned another button. And who would have thunk that our dashing Lochinvar of the past would someday be seated in the responsible chair of the Community Club? Not, I—I tell you.

And if you haven't met Kaye Zoll—well, you should. Kaye is one gal that our 5' 11" can look straight in the eye. A comparative newcomer, she and school bus driver Frank Zoll, busily run a beautiful home on the Yuba in the Kingvale area. These two pitched right in so far as community affairs go, and glamorous Kay wields the gavel as vice president of the club. Then there's cute Carol Carder, the scribe; and Fran Dragoo of Big Bend who wears the forest service uniform (ladies division) beautifully and counts the club's ever increasing bankroll. And the gentlemen who put their feet under the board table are Bill Cannon (Soda Springs Lodge) Norman Sayler (Donner Ski Ranch) Eli Carder (Mountain Ski Shop) and Ron Sweet (Pla Vada Service)—and if there are anymore that we might have missed—please send in your protest. And the last meeting was propelled by a potluck dinner, games and finally the business meeting which elected Pete Wyckoff as chairman of the scholarship committee. And let's see. You might not particularly like the inclusion in the minutes that the Community Club went on record as being opposed to the area's inclusion in the 5th District's Recreational deal. And, oh yeah — the Summit kids will hallow Halloween at the Donner Ski Ranch this year.

We still haven't made that Cisco jaunt. But we do remember that YOUNG OLD TIMERS — Jim Gould, Jr., and one Del Gooch, whom we baby sat with years ago, were married and you have never seen a handsomer couple — and this goes for their two adorable infants, too. And from thataway—two young old timers, Earline and John White, pulled up their roots as that unrolling carpet, New Highway Forty, came rolling into their baliwick—the Sitski Lodge—and pitched their tent in the Grass Valley, Nevada City area. But we still get a better picture at the end of our reporting area in due time.

Now for a peek at our note book which tells us (and we can see him as we type) that Terry West is dispensing liquor at our bar—and he is too old enough. Which reminds us that his Dad and Ma—Bob and Sibyl are living down around the Walnut Grove area and what for? Well, Bob — not only being the head of the Soda Springs Ski Patrol in the winter months—is a steeple jack. And whilst Sibyl sits in her trailer and worriedly looks up a quarter of a mile at the tiny figure of Bob—she knows that the work he is doing up there on that scaffold in the sky is going to benefit all of her mountain friends. For Bob labors on that tallest of TV antennas that should bring us more than the one channel that we now are pleasantly "forced" to look at. See? And we think (according to Sibyl who came up the hill to visit Terry) that said antenna will be in operation as you pick up Summit Scene this week.

And speaking of steeple jacks. Bill Cannon will precariously perch high up when he installs his new Soda Springs Lodge sign.

And we hear from two OLD TIMERS — as a direct result of Summit Scene. Because both say, in their notes, "nice to read your articles again—which reminds us to write and tell you so." And one is Mr. and Mrs. Don Huff of Homewood. Hi. And they don't know what an itch they gave me as they dropped me their "hello" from Pismo Beach—and low tide time coming and all. And we not knowing whether or not we can go digging this year. But if we do we'll have our regular Clam Bake on our return. And right now Peg Travis and I "haunt" the pages of the tide chart and into limbo has gone all the Christmas catalogs of Sears and Montgomery. And mayhap we can go—who knows?

And the other "hello" note was from Hildegarde Pratt. Mrs. Harry Pratt. Hi to you, too. And we're sorry that the aftermath of Harry's tragic accident of a short time ago—has left him with bad legs—so bad that he must go in for delicate surgery on the 27th of this month at Stanford Lane. And we wish you both well. And thanks for little Kathy's picture which we will treasure.

And it says here that Peg Wyckoff took her kids to San Francisco for a tonsilectomy (Spell it right?) And that the Big Bend Ranger Station people were on an entertaining spree as Valeta Masons folks came a visiting from Kansas City — and Howard and Fran Dragoo went all out for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rader and their daughter. The Raders own that Rock Creek store out Bishop way and treat Fran and Howard simply grand when these latter two start out in the back country (up Bishop way) to fish for Golden Trout. Think not? You ought to see their colored slides.

And a hammering and a pounding noise causes us to inquire what is going on at the Soda Springs Service Station. And we

NEW!

California greeted the 20th century with a "new look" in fashion

GOLDEN MOMENTS

In California history—as business boomed in 1900, society expressed prosperity with new ideas in gracious living.

In California life—today's ideal of gracious living includes beer, the beverage of moderation. Beer means enjoyment . . . prosperity. Last year, for example, brewers purchased over 68,000 tons of our farm products—another reason why beer means better living for all in the "Golden State."

In view of National Fire Protection Week, a review of a do-it-yourself program of fire prevention might be timely. Replace worn electric cords, outlets, plugs, switches with safety-checked UL labeled equipment. Keep power tools lubricated, free of sawdust, lint, etc. Never overfuse any circuits. Make it a habit to clean up work area after each job. Have covered metal trash container located away from furnace—empty regularly. Dispose of oily, waxy cloths in separate containers. Check with local fire department for your burning permit and burning regulations.

LEGGETT ANNOUNCES HE WILL SEEK POST

SACRAMENTO—(CNS)—A second democratic assemblyman has announced his candidacy for the new fourth congressional district seat in the western Sacramento valley.

He is Assemblyman Robert L. Leggett, who is serving his first term from Vallejo. The new congressional district includes Solano, Yolo, Glenn, Colusa, Lake, Sutter and Yuba Counties.

"My experience in the California legislature has proven that hard work, dedication to purpose and ability to translate the demands of constituents into concrete public law, is the primary worth of any representative," Leggett said.

Leggett said he was announcing his candidacy with an anticipation there would be a substantial contest for the democratic nomination and that he would conduct the campaign without personalities and soley on the merits of the issues facing the electorate.

The other announced candidate for the new congressional seat is Assemblyman Lloyd W. Lowrey, Rumsey, who will complete 20 years in the assembly at the end of his present term.

Although New York and Illinois exceed California in number of publications, California leads in newspapers alone.

BULLETIN:
FOA-5X additive in Shell Heating Oil helps protect your fuel system winter after winter

There's a new additive in today's Shell Heating Oil. Called FOA-5X, it works round the clock to help guard your fuel system—from storage tank to burner head.

FOA-5X helps reduce the build-up of heat-robbing deposits that can collect in sensitive areas of burner nozzles. It lets Shell Heating Oil burn in a radiant, even flame. It helps reduce service calls and expense. The result: more warmth per gallon of fuel—top heating performance at minimum cost.

Before you buy your next gallon of heating oil, call us. We will give you complete details about Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X and about our services.

DIVOT-DIGGERS

By BETTY KIELHOFER

Greetings—I find on returning from my trip that one remaining first flight contest for men was finally played off with Bob Leamon being the champion and John Waller runner-up. This finishes all the games and I don't believe it is necessary to repeat the list of winners but if you would like to see them all receive their trophies, come on along to the Shadow Valley Country Club dinner being held next Saturday evening at Lawton Springs—the dinner will be prime rib and will be free to all members. Guests of members are welcome and will be charged $4 per person. The cocktail hour will begin around 7:30 and dinner about 9 p. m. — since there isn't much golf news on returning from our hunting trip to Wyoming, I'd like to tell you of a few highlights of our trip . . . we stayed in a little town called Kemmerer of some 2,000 population . . . some of the townspeople got togeher and built a 9 hole golf course in a meadow—their greens are sand and they use a roller to smooth the line of the putt—we thought we had troubles here with cows on the course. Their problems are not only cows and horses, but 'moose' as well—they constructed their own club house and have a little box where non-members drop in their green fees before they go out to play—all very simple and they have a grand time—we stayed in a nice little motel and discovered our next door neighbors were none other than Floyd Cooper, Bill Campbell, Charlie Smith, Joe Copeland and Bob Tonini — even 750 miles away, we hardly knew we were out of Truckee with so many familiar faces.—There were six in our party and we all filled our tags with four, five and six pointers, averaging 200 pounds each . . . I'll have to say hunting anywhere else was never like this . . . you travel from one mountain top to the next and never see another hunter . . . just sheep . . . the first and biggest buck shot in our six-some was dropped by Mike Ellis . . . he appeared on the scene downhill from her position. She took careful aim, missed was spurred on by her husband Jcak, shot again and dropped him cold . . . she ran screaming down the mountain, examined him thoroughly, and began shaking uncontrollably. She then disappeared into the trees, lost her breakfast, and subsequently collapsed on a clump of sagebrush. I've had and witnessed most types of buck-fever but this was the oddest of all . . . If you don't believe me, I have it all recorded on film. It wasn't the first buck Mike ever killed, but by far the longest, so guess she had a right to react. In the days following, the fellows were greatly chagrined to find that she and I had killed the largest bucks of the hunt. The weather was great and we hated coming home—but—see you Saturday night.

DANGERS OF WASTE OF WATER IS TOLD BY PAUL J. LUNARDI

by PAUL J. LUNARDI
Assemblyman, 6th District

In today's California, wasting water is rapidly coming to be one of the deadlier sins. Everyone—north, south, east and west—is being impressed with the necessity of conserving every possible drop of the vital fluid. The future well-being of the entire state depends, to a great extent, on our ability to provide an adequate and reliable supply for all.

For years, growing concern has been expressed over the lowering water tables in our great interior valleys. Water agencies and users have been forced to go deeper and deeper after their supplies, and costs have sky-rocketed accordingly. But pracical solutions to the problems involved have not been easy of achievement.

Hope for eventual success has been recently renewed. Following a legislative mandate, one assembly interim committee has started a two-year investigation of ground water replacement problems, and of the need for legislation governing ground water usage. The senate fact finding committee on water resources will cooperate in the study.

At its first hearing, the assembly group got information from both the state water rights board and the state department of water resources. Both agencies were agreed that we must realize the maximum beneficial use of all the ground water resources of the state if we are to meet future demands. Both were also of the opinion that legislation of some sort will be needed to reach this maximum.

The committee was alerted to a popular misconception that underground water is a natural resource entirely separate and apart from water from surface streams. It was pointed out that studies reveal that pumping water from an underground basin will reduce to a certain extent the flow of a surface stream which crosses the basin. This means, it was said, that proper control of such a surface stream by licenses and permits can be nullified by continued uncontrolled pumping from wells in the basin.

As an example of what can happen, the situation on the east side of the San Joaquin valley was cited. Many irrigation districts there which get stored water from the Friant reservoir deliberately turn part of it into underground basins for use in dry-cycle years. But other districts which depend on wells pump out part of this ground water, thus depriving the first districts of water they have paid to put into cyclic storage.

Both agencies recommended planned or "conjunctive" operation of both surface and underground water in given basins to conserve the most water possible, and keep the water tables at optimum levels. Under this procedure, water in underground basins would by law be made as fully subject to licensing and permit controls as surface or other stream water now is. Applications for ground water rights would be made and decided through existing machinery of the water rights board and the courts.

The committee was warned that successful operation of projects in the state master water plan depend on ground water control. Spokesmen for the department of water resources said that coordinated use of both surface and underground storage is being given careful consideration in the designs and plans for operation of all state water projects.

Complete use of ground water storage is vital to the economical construction and efficient operation of the entire system, it was indicated.

GOVERNOR SAYS NO NEW TAX REQUIRED

SACRAMENTO—(CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown told a gathering of state business leaders that he will not ask for no new taxes next year but still will be able to present a balanced budget because of higher employment and more economy in government.

The governor dismissed as "voices of confusion which have plucked false estimates from thin air" charges by Republicans and others that the state faced a $100 million deficit in the next fiscal year and a $300 million shortage in the next three years.

"Their crystal balls are cloudy," Brown said. "When we launch a program of economies, they say it is impossible to reduce expenditures and maintain state services They can't seem to decide whether to complain of surpluses or deficits."

Economically, Brown said the state was moving rapidly out of the recession, with the population growth continuing and with the state's personal income continuing to outstrip the national average.

Brown said the state "has good reason to expect almost $1 billion additional (national) defense money, out of some $4 billion to be spent in the months ahead." He said this could be expected to generate some 175,000 jobs in California.

The governor based his statement on economy in government on his administration's policy of not filling vacant positions if they are not essential, reorganization of state government, extension of automation in state government, and the savings of millions of dollars through increasing self-support programs, chiefly in agriculture.

THE U. S. ARMY'S SD-1 DRONE as displayed at Ft. Knox, Ky. Highly mobile, the operational, remote-controlled SD-1 DRONE can be ground-launched from a camouflaged position in rough terrain. It can accomplish its photo reconnaissance missions over enemy territory and then return to a pre-designated area for recovery within a matter of minutes. Its powerplant consists of a four-cylinder reciprocating engine. The 13 foot-long DRONE has a wingspread of 11 feet, 5 inches. The SD-1 DRONE is produced by Radio Plane Division of Northrop Aircraft, Inc.

MANY INMATES ARE USED TO FIGHT FIRE

SACRAMENTO —(CNS)— Governor Edmund G. Brown reported 2611 inmates from department of corrections institutions — including 2,000 from the conservation camps — were on the fire lines, fighting 40 major forest blazes over the long Labor Day weekend.

The other 611 men were trained emergency forest fire fighters from other correctional institutions.

"This is a clear demonstration of the value of the state's growing camp program," Brown said. "The damage would have been immeasurably worse had it not been for the work of conservation crews directed by state division of forestry supervisors."

The conservation camp program really got underway in major proportions since Brown has been governor. A 1200-inmate conservation center is under construction near Susanville and will be activated in late 1962. Two branch conservation centers in Humboldt and Tuolumne counties will be completed by February, 1963, with eventual capacities of 600 men each.

The department of corrections also has 21 permanent conservation camps, three mobile conservation camps and three summer camps. A total of 42 camps are planned by 1965.

DONNER DOINGS

By VIRGINIA O'BEAR

Next Tuesday evening all of our youngsters will be dressing up for trick or treat and paying a visit to their neighbors. It is Halloween time with colorful pumpkins and gay parties and I do hope parents will instruct their children not to be destructive. If children go out trick or treating, they should go in large groups or with the parents nearby because it does get dark early and now there has been much concern over children being molested. If we use precaution, perhaps our whole area will be safer for our children.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brack and son of Healdsburg were weekend visitors at George Bracks home. Dan and his father George went hunting and I haven't heard whether or not Dan got his buck. Rosalie says she likes it back in Healdsburg but does miss Donner Lake and the Auxiliary of the Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department. She said to tell all of you members "hello" for her.

Arline Johnson was up over the weekend from Novato and said she and Bert had sold "Henry's Ole Place" in Marin County. She won't be up again until New Year's Eve so maybe more of us will get to see her at that time. She was busy getting her "Little Black Sambo" cottage ready for winter.

We had a surprise visit from mom and pop last Sunday as they were on their way home after traveling highway 50 from Santa Rosa and spending a few days at Lake Tahoe. They are Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Bear, Sr. and enjoyed their trip up to Summit Lake with the children even though it was a little cold with some snow on the ground.

There were quite a few boats out on the lake over the weekend and the reports were good as many of the fishermen caught fish. I suppose some people read my column last week and decided to find out for themselves if the kokanee were really biting. The people were mostly from Truckee and Donner Lake. Margaret Scardina told me last week that she has been catching some beautiful large rainbow right out from her place. She said it is rough getting down the hill to water but after she is there, it is well worth it.

The Auxiliary of the Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department enjoyed a very delicious dinner last Thursday evening at the Church of the Mountains in Truckee. The ladies of the W.S.C.S. prepared the food and everyone wondered if they would gain some extra pounds after all of the tasty desserts on display. The meeting was a lot of fun with Jean Walker warning everyone to be a 'label watcher" for a few months. She has a clever plan for Christmas fun. Four young cactus plants were given to four members to care for and to be returned at the December meeting with a surprise given to the one who has the healthiest and prettiest plant. Pig in the poke winners were Virginia O'Bear, Louise McCallen and Pat Wurst. Ruth Knight volunteered to give first aid instructions to members starting in January. She is surgical nurse at the Tahoe Forest Hospital. Donna Warnke stated that the firemen are in need of clean white rags and members are urged to bring them to the next meeting. Also in the planning stage is the use for some of the rags for making first aid equipment for the firemen such as slings, etc. The next board meeting will be at the home of Gertrude Gilson on November 13. The next regular meeting will be November 16 with the place to be decided by hostesses Marcella Corro, Lena Bullock and Margaret Scardina. Martha Pankoke was secretary pro tem in the absence of Muriel Wiser and Laura Horman was treasurer for Ozella Slate who was on vacation. The ladies will present the Donner firemen with a check this week for $850 towards the cost of a powerful water pump, new bathroom, and other needed equipment.

The Donner Lake firemen will meet this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, October 26 at the fire house for a regular meeting.

find that Bill and Rita Vail are remodeling the apartment over the station—preparing to move from their present home "across the street" from the hotel, into the newly renovated quarters when same are finished.

And let's see — oh yeah — Peg Travis who has the coffee shop at Soda Springs Lodge is going to close up same midweek and operate on weekends only until the white gold season forces her home on her range. And when I finish this report, Peg and I are going to take off for Sacramento to look over the costumes for our Halloween Party next Saturday night. And how's your costumes coming along? (If you wanna wear one).

And that smoke that billows on the Soda Springs Ski Hill—which reminds us of a smouldering baby volcano—means that our report of a few weeks ago in which we stated that the hill was going to be cleared, was a true picture.

And once in awhile we step over our bounds to take a peek at some of our old neighbors. We find that Marsh Finch (he of Don Lac) has "ants" about going to 29 Palms for his winter's bartending. And as we get "out of bounds" we would like to mention that one of the cutest sights we have seen in many a moon was the round, dark eyes of diminutive Dale somebody or another at the Ladies Night for Rotary last Monday night. Eyes never look so big as they do over a great, big accordion that his teacher Yvonne Webb had to strap over his shoulder. And that's all we could see whilst his tiny fingers (professional like) flew over the ivory keys to render a couple of tunes. And his feet which moved rhythmically with his squeezing, dangled at least a foot above the floor.

And our yaking with Karen Sayler at the Ski Ranch brings out the fact that a new ski lift is going in at that accessible place. Norm Sayler supervises the installation of a new Alpine Platter lift—1,000 feet long, starting in the parking area and going smack up to the "Palisades." The Tiegel Manufacturing Company are making the lift, we learned in our chatting, and it should be ready for inspection in about three weeks from now. "Whose going to be with you this winter?" said we, referring, of course, to employes. "Oh, the same bunch" — answered Karen. "We'll have the same cook, Kenny Brenneman, and, of course Al Eberhardt. And Dick Van Landingham will run our ski shop again." And then we start thinking about that young Old Timer named Al Eberhardt whom we used to give a stick of gum too—now and then when we had a grocery store here on this knob. A handsomer youngster we had never seen. And we remember when his sturdy four year old legs kept apace with his mothers swinging walk as they went a fishing that long time ago. And, if I remember right, Al and I had a right smart love affair, in those days. And now Karen says that our young old timer will be behind their long counter on weekends again this year. Al hasn't changed too much and we have never seen a nattier, neater cook than this handsome lad — complete with ringed 'kerchief under his chin which merely goes to set off his engaging grin.

And now we're off to Sacramento to see our mother, Mrs. Lois Hack —who (a Kingvaleite during the summer months) wishes to be remembered to all of her mountain friends. FRANKLY FRAN

"Here they are again. School's open. But what a job to protect them. It's up to me and the drivers. Most drivers are fine. But there are the ones in a hurry, sneaking by the school bus when the youngsters are running for it, forgetting kids rush into the street from nowhere. They could be brought into line, but it takes real enforcement and a town that really supports it."

DRIVERS KILL AND CRIPPLE MORE CHILDREN THAN ANY DISEASE!

You've helped curb pneumonia, cancer, polio, and other terrible diseases. How about careless drivers? They kill and cripple more children from 1 to 14 years than any major disease.

You can do something. Just write to your local enforcement officials. Say . . .

"I support strict law enforcement!"

When traffic laws are strictly enforced and obeyed, traffic deaths go down. Your community can be another to prove it.

At Stockton—

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Crawford and Mrs. Charles Heller spent the first part of this week visiting at Stockton.

RETIRED RAILROADER RECALLS SUMMIT RUN

Walter M. Hunter, 65, of Roseville recently retired after 42 years of employment with the Southern Pacific Company, starting his career as a boy in 1909. One of the many interesting episodes recalled by Hunter, was the January, 1952, snowin of the streamliner passenger train 101, when a 15 day rescue operation worked through the 32 foot high snow bank at Emigrant Gap.

"Our rotary plow even got derailed on that one and it was a dog team which first got through to the stranded passengers," he said dent Kennedy, to stimulate the nation's economy and to assist Posmaster General J. Edward Day in programs to provide the nation with the finest postal service in its history, Higgins pointed out.

"Our patrons will derive more enjoyment from doing business here, their mail will be handled more efficiently and this building and its up-to-date equipment will enable our postal employes to work under the best of conditions," the postmaster commented.

"The new facility, he added, "will be a link with a postal system that today has over 35,000 post offices. This system serves more than 13 million persons and handles over two-thirds of the world's mail. Our 560,000 postal employes are handling about 65 billion pieces of mail a year, including over a billion parcels," the postmaster added.

BOOST GIVEN SOUAW AS TRAINING CENTER

The assembly rules committee gave some encouragement to a proposal to use Squaw Valley as a permanent training ground for Olympic athletes.

The plan had been presented to the committee by Assemblyman Paul Lunardi of Placer County.

The rules committee authorized Lunardi to present the program in more detail before an appropriate assembly interim committee. The rules committee indicated, however, the plan should be financed from private sources, since the state is not interested in putting any more money into Squaw Valley.

PROGRESSIVE BABY SHOWER IS ENJOYED

With nothing but the heavy rains to mar a perfect evening of fellowship, good food and music 15 couples gathered last Friday evening to honor Mrs. Norman Handy and Mrs. George Hansen with a surprise baby shower. Those present were friends and members of the Sierra Bible Chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Tollefson were hosts for the first course.

At the appointed time everyone journeyed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hansen where the soup course was enjoyed. From there the group went to the home of Pastor and Mrs. Roy Rhoades for the main course.

Upon entering the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Denney for the final dessert course the two honored guests were surprised to find the home decorated with the appropriate baby shower motif suitable for the occasion. After the gifts were opened Ted Bull led the group in singing some choruses and hymns.

DIVIDENDS ISSUED TO BANK STOCKHOLDERS

A pre-season Christmas package was opened for Bank of America's more than 200,000 shareholders October 17 by the board of directors at its regular monthly meeting in San Francisco.

REDWOOD CITY MAN INJURED IN MISHAP

James Billings Westergard, 22, Redwood City, was treated at the Tahoe Forest Hospital Sunday shortly afternoon for injuries suffered in an accident near the quarantine station.

Westergard told officers he was slowing up to enter the station when he found his brakes were useless. Rather than hit a car in front of him, he swerved and crashed into a pole, wrecking his car.

FUNERAL HELD

Last rites were held this week in Grass Valley for Mrs. Mary Cassettari, 80, mother of William J. Cassettari, deputy district attorney of Nevada County. Mrs. Cassettari was a native of Italy but had lived at Grass Valley for many years.
